

Studio Fellowship

Work/Trade Position

December 2015 through May 2016

Our Fellowship Program is our flagship opportunity for young artists, emerging artists, and artists in a transitional point in their career, and artists who are unable to utilize our fee-based Studio Access Programs to gain access unrestricted access to our studios.

This is a six-month program that provides support for young artists through full studio access and professional development opportunities. Fellows will acquire Studio Assistance experience through monitoring a weekly open studio session. Each fellow will also work closely with staff to develop and lead a Community Workshop at Spudnik Press.

The program creates accountability for each Fellow as they set personal goals, create healthy studio habits, and continue to develop their portfolio. Staff will also support the cohort of fellows as they seek exhibition opportunities for their personal projects.

This program is geared towards recent graduates and other artists in a similar transitional period. Current students are encouraged to apply to our Internship Program. Artists seeking technical training are encouraged to apply to our Screenprinting Apprentice Program. Four positions are available per term.
