

Spudnik Press Cooperative

2018 Artist Residency Program

Synopsis

The production of new print-based artwork plays a central role in the Spudnik Press Cooperative Residency Program. The program provides artistic and financial support to each resident artist. Equally important, each resident artist provides our members and our community at large with public programming and professional development opportunities.

Overview

The Spudnik Press Cooperative Residency Program provides mid-career to established artists one to six weeks of full studio access and the support necessary for the production of new print-based artwork. The Residency Program supports a broad range of artists, including those working outside of the discipline of printmaking and in communities beyond Chicago. Each residency will be modified to adapt to the interests and needs of the individual artist.

The Resident Artists also play an integral role in the Spudnik Press community, bringing new perspectives, experiences and resources as they partake in a variety of public programs and professional opportunities throughout the duration of their residency. These activities vary from one artist to the next and may entail participating in artist talks, private events, and critiques, teaching master workshops, or presenting an exhibition.

Eligibility

The Residency Program is committed to serving:

- Respected and established artists.
- Artists with a strong exhibition record and public speaking or teaching experience.
- Artist who demonstrate true interest in engaging with the Spudnik Press community.
- Artists who are able to fully commit one to six weeks to a single print-based art project.
- Artists whose project will fully utilize Spudnik Press facilities.
- Artists whose current artistic practice or proposed residency project utilizes printmaking within a contemporary art practice.
- People of all backgrounds and identities including but not limited to artists of color, LGBTQ artists, and women artists.
- Artists able to coordinate their own travel, accommodations, and transportation to and from Spudnik Press.

Additional logistical criteria will be considered in the selection process such as budget, scheduling, and alignment with other planned programs.

Expectations

Residents are expected to regularly utilize Spudnik Press facilities. The scheduling and duration of each residency will be determined based on the needs of each project and each artist.

Based on the technical skills of each resident, the production of new work will take the form of self-directed use of facilities or a publishing project facilitated by Spudnik Press staff.

Each resident will present or partake in one or more additional activities customized to meet the needs of the artist and the organization.

Spudnik Press requests that a portion of the artwork produced through the residency is retained by the organization. Sales of these artworks provide the critical funding needed to sustain this program.

Facilities

Spudnik Press Cooperative is a community-based arts organization located in a warehouse-turned-arts hub in West Town, Chicago. Unique in our dedication to printmaking and the cultural traditions surrounding print, our studio houses professional facilities and rare equipment for a wide variety of traditional print processes and fine art publishing. Our 4800 sq.ft. studio includes shared work space, private studios and mixed-use spaces for exhibitions, classes and community events.

Deadline To Apply	April 1, 2018
Residency Period	June 1, 2018 - August 31, 2018
Duration	One and six weeks
Stipend	$250 to $900

Selection Process

- While the Residency Program aims to bring national and international artists to Chicago, the program is dedicated to supporting at least one local artist each year.
- Applications are first and foremost reviewed for the quality of the proposal. However, various other factors will be considered such as alignment with other programming.
- Exact editions sizes, plate sizes, etcetera need not specified in the proposal. However, proposals should be well-defined and present a clear overview of the type and scope of work that will be produced.
- Finalists will be invited to meet with Spudnik Press staff to discuss the proposed project in detail. Studio visits will be completed for all local applicants. Skype interviews will be completed for all out-of-town applicants.
- Notification will be sent approximately one month after application deadline.

To Apply

Submit all requested materials by April 1, 2018 at midnight to Marcela A. Serment (marcela@spudnikpress.org).

- Letter of interest that addresses the general scope of the project, an assessment of what resources the project requires, an overview of print-related experience and skills, and any other relevant information not addressed in other applications components.
- A one-sentence project summary followed by a one-page project statement.
- One-page Artist Statement
- Current Resume.
- Three references with contact information and relationship to applicant.
- Image list including medium, year of completion, dimensions, and name of file.
- 7-10 digital images. Images need not exceed 1 MB each. Work should be current and include print-based art when possible.
