

Studio Assistant Intern

Unpaid Internship

Approximately 14 hours per week
Complimentary Keyholder Access

Internships at Spudnik Press focus on bringing students into every aspect of facilitating a community studio. Internships balance administrative tasks with hands-on printing activities. Interns assist with daily maintenance of the shop, included cleaning, stocking, and ordering supplies. Marketing tasks include website updates, online marketing, writing short event summaries and product descriptions for new posts and the online store. Administrative projects can include financial and statistical record keeping, processing donation-recognition letters, and maintaining a database of members, students, other authorized printers, and an art archive. Depending on the skill sets and interests of the student, there are also opportunities for assisting with a class, installing exhibitions, and assisting printers through the artist in residence or publishing programs. After becoming familiar with how Spudnik Press Cooperative functions, we work with students to choose a self-guided project that builds off of their abilities and learning goals, while meeting the needs of our studio. Studio Assistant Interns report to the Executive Director.
