OUR VISION

Founded on the premise that art should be a democratic and empowering medium, Spudnik Press Cooperative is committed to being an approachable and affordable print shop; a space where professional printmakers merge with aspiring students; a space that encourages collaboration and the sharing of ideas.

At Spudnik Press, artists create and use printed materials to further culture and engage with their community. Through sharing materials, equipment, and studio space, artists are also sharing technical skills, practical knowledge, and creative processes. By pooling resources and creative problem solving, artists at Spudnik Press are able to create a space that is beyond the means of solo emerging artists.

OUR IMPACT

In 2017, we reached over 4,500 Chicagoans, including 550 youth. 500 people enrolled in 85 classes and workshops. We hosted 8 fellows, 3 resident artists, 7 exhibitions.

At the core of Spudnik's mission is Studio Access. In 2017, 209 artists logged 728 Open Studio visits. Facilities are also accessible through hourly reservations and a 24/7 keyholder program that serves about 35 artists a year.
